Title: HeyFriday! Use Case Diagram

Description: Successful LogIn into the HeyFriday Application

Actor(s):   User

Purpose: Shows the procedure of a sucessful login attempt into the HeyFriday Application.

Scenario 1

Pre Condition(s):   User has started the application and is at the LogInView.
                         User already has an existing account, but is not logged in.

Procedure: Enter email and password
                         Click login button
                         Application checks if user credentials are correct

Post Condition(s):   User is logged in.

Scenario 2

Pre Condition(s):   User has started the application and is at the LogInView.
                         Userdoes not have an account and is not logged in.

Procedure: Click signup button
                         Enter information in the SignUpPageView
                         Click signup button
                         Information is stored in the database
                         User returns to the LogInView
                         Enter email and password
                         Click login button
                         Application checks if user credentials are correct

Post Condition(s):   User has new account
                         User is logged in